To-morrow's Racing Prospects

DAILY DOUBLE TO OPERATE FOR FIRST TIME IN MACAO

Delightful Chance And Colombo Fancied

(By "MORNING DEW")

The Macao Jockey Club will be holding an extra meeting to-morrow and judging from the entries received, there should be some good racing.

The Daily Double will be introduced for the first time at Aeria Preia race course. Chances will be at $2 each. The Double will be on the second and fifth race, and the combination of Delightful Chance and Colombo is likely to prove successful.

There are six events altogether, the last race on the card being a ladies race.

Racing Pluck Should Win

The main event of the day is the Fat Shan Handicap, for which there are eleven entries. Of these, Racing Pluck has been honoured with top weight, but in spite of this the pony should win. The distance suits him and he will not be running against too strong an opposition. What A Chance, William Oster and Glad Eyes, can put up a good race and I am not sure that Gold Currency with only 155 pounds to carry, is not a very good outsider. If Racing Pluck is beaten, the dividend should be good.

POLO SCURRY

The opening Race is a polo pony scurry over half a mile and a glance at the entries seem to indicate that Capt. J. L. Jordan will have an easy win with Stickypast. The Loafer is a good sprinter also, but half a mile may prove just a shade too long for him. Winchester Stag is a good thing for a place and Cloudy Eve for a long shot is a reasonable bet.

THE FIRST LEG

There are nine entries in the second race and top weight has been given by the handicapper to Hell for Leather and The Carp. Neither appear as a likely winner. I think Delightful Chance (150) is the best thing here and should extend the top weights. Kindo and Soldier of Italy also have a sporting chance of coming in since their weights are not too big.

CAN SARABANDE WIN?

Sarabande will have plenty of opportunity of winning on Sunday as he is running in the Tain Shan Handicap, (1 1/2 Miles) for "D" and "E" Class, at the comfortable weight of 152 pounds. Partnership is entered for this race and the pony is capable of winning, the more so since he is just beginning to move very well in his tryouts. West Parade would have been my first pick if he had not been given top weight at 168 pounds which may prove his undoing.

SECOND LEG

The second leg of the "Double" is on a race over "Once Round" for "D" and "E" Class ponies. Looking over the list I see Colombo in at 151 pounds. The distance suits him and I am confident the pony will do well. Festival Eve at 148 pounds is a good each way bet and Bold Commander too may prove to be well deserving of support. Shaughraun is in this race and if this pony will only run as he does during training, he may provide an upset.

LADIES RACE

If Stickypast wins the first race, the last race on the card should fall to The Loafer or Winchester Stag. I don't think the other entries will be able to touch these two ponies unless Darien produces a flash of his one time brilliance. I understand that there will be at least six starters in this race.

China's Reconstruction Programme

THE RAJCHMAN REPORT

In June, 1933, the Chinese Government presented a communication to the council of the League of Nations at Geneva, regarding its possible technical collaboration in the work of national reconstruction of China. The council approved of the proposal, and appointed Mr. L. Rajchman to serve as technical agent and liaison officer for the purpose. His statement of the work done so far, in which he has collaborated, has recently been published by the League of Nations, with the title, "Report of the Technical Agent of the Council on his Mission to China," copies of which can be procured from Messrs. Allen and Unwin, London, at 2s. 6d. net. The Chinese Government established in October, 1933, a standing committee of the National Economic Council, of five members, to make a new and detailed study of all the problems involved, and of the financial matters concerned with them. Their main proposals for the year 1934 were for improvements in communications, for water conservancy schemes, and for the comprehensive reconstruction of certain rural areas.

The immediate industrialisation of such a vast territory as China naturally involves problems of a very intricate character. In previous references to this subject some information has been given regarding the work undertaken, and proposed, for the development of the region of the Yangtze valley, and on the general progress in industrialisation. That work, with certain modifications, is being continued. Following the conclusion of a financial arrangement with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of the United States, a number of organisations, including private agencies interested in industrial development, applied for loans for projects, more than half of which related to improvement of agriculture, including hydraulic and irrigation work. Other schemes were for railway construction, the erection of factories, the development of fisheries, the improvement of the mercantile marine, posts, telegraphs and telephones, and the extension of education.

Natural Calamities

Floods are perhaps the worst of the natural calamities that periodically affect China. Where the country is mountainous, as is the case south of the Yangtze, the rivers give but little trouble, but in the north-west, where they have to flow across great plains before reaching the sea, they have washed down, in the course of centuries, quantities of silt, and their beds are higher than the surrounding country. In this case they can only be kept from overflowing by means of dykes or bunds. In central China the conditions are not dissimilar, but are less severe. The bed of the Yangtze is not dry enough to accommodate the water draining into it after a period of abnormally heavy rainfall up-river and it is liable to spread over the whole of the neighbouring plain. To deal with the situation, a commission of three engineers, one British, one French and one German, was sent some time ago to China. They recommended early work on the Hwai River, which had no closely defined outlet to the sea, by conducting it into the Yangtze, and this proposal is now being carried out. Certain dock extensions at Shanghai were condemned on technical grounds. Bunds were built on the Yangtze and its tributaries, to the length of over 7,000 kilometres, to prevent the recurrence of devastating floods. Three major irrigation projects in the North-West provinces have also been taken in hand, two of which have been partially completed.

Roads in rural China represent a network of small winding and narrow paths, but these have proved adequate after many centuries of use. When the recent road making was begun the programmes were not co-ordinated, and much waste resulted. Control became essential. A general plan was drawn up in 1932, beginning with the three provinces of Kiangsu, Chekiang and Anhwei, later spreading to adjacent areas. The Roads Bureau now prescribes the location, the quality and kind of road to be built, and in certain cases grants loans to cover part of the building costs. This resulted in accelerated construction. In two years roads have been built of an aggregate length of 4,000 kilometres. Connections of more than 12,000 kilometres have also been brought into existence.

In dealing with navigation, the Government has taken over the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company, and has converted it into a state-operated concern. Some progress is said to have resulted.

Electrical Company, Limited, Trafford Park, Manchester, have received an order for a 30,000-kW turbo-alternator, with step-up transformers, for the Belfast Corporation.

Messrs. Horsley Bridge & Thomas Pigott, Limited, Tipton, Staffs, have received a repeat order from Messrs. The British (Guest, Keen and Baldwins) Iron and Steel Company, Port Talbot, for a 3,000,000 cub. ft. waterless gas-holder for blast-furnaces, and a 1,000,000 cub. ft. waterless holder for coke-oven gas. Each will be equipped with an internal electric lift, and an external lift will be installed between them.

Wombwell Coke and By-Product Company, Limited, Wombwell Main, near Barnsley.

Messrs. The British Thomson-Houston Company, Limited, Rugby, have received an order from the West Midlands Joint Electricity Authority for a 50,000-kW, 33,000-volt turbo-alternator for Ironbridge generating station. The turbine is of the two-cylinder double flow type, designed for a steam pressure, at the stop valve, of 375 lb. per square inch gauge, 750 deg. F. total temperature. The condensing plant will be manufactured by Messrs. Hick, Hargreaves and Company, Limited, Bolton.

Messrs. The Sunbeam Motor Car Company, Limited, Moorfield Works, Wolverhampton, have received a second repeat order from the Bourne-mouth Corporation for 36 Sunbeam-British Thomson-Houston trolley omnibuses. The chassis will be of the Sunbeam M.S.2, six-wheel type, with British Thomson-Houston regenerative traction equipment. The bodies will be supplied by Messrs. Park Royal Coachworks, Limited. These will be of the double-deck type and each vehicle will seat 56 passengers.

Messrs. Clarke, Chapman and Company, Limited, Victoria Works, Gateshead-on-Tyne, have supplied nine pumps and a set of float gear, a feed-water heater, two electrically-driven warping capstans, and a warping winch for the new Cunarder No. 534. The pumps comprise a pair of auxiliary slow-speed, feed pumps with 14-in. steam cylinders, two Hotwell pumps, a slow-speed, feed-water transfer pump and four auxiliary slow-speed pumps with 20-in. steam cylinders. All are of the Woodeson vertical single-cylinder, double-acting type.

Messrs. Peter Brotherhood, Limited, Peterborough, report that they have recently received orders for turbo-generating sets from Messrs. Yarrow and Company, Limited, Messrs. John I. Thornycroft and Company, Limited, and Messrs. Alex. Stephens and Sons, Limited, for the British Admiralty; air compressors for the Admiralty, and for Messrs. John Brown and Company, Limited, for the Cunarder No. 534; as well as several orders for gas compressors, circulating pumps, Brotherhood-Ricardo and Brotherhood-Junkers engines, the former engines for the Admiralty and the latter largely for welding sets.

THE AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY

"New Economic Cars"

Kobe, Oct. 20. With a view to establishing a national policy on the motor car industry, the Department of Commerce and Industry, the War Department and the other Departments concerned appointed a special committee several months ago. When the special committee met in August, a sub-committee was formed so as to elaborate a draft plan, and now that this sub-committee has finished its work, the special committee is to resume its sittings next week.

According to the basic plan drafted by the sub-committee, anyone assembling motor cars or manufacturing car parts on a commercial basis will be called on to obtain official permission. The Government is to order authorised manufacturers to build standard cars called "new economic cars," granting a State subsidy. Import duties on motor car parts are to be raised if necessary. The sub-committee points out the need of the new standard cars being patronised by Government offices and public organisations.

The Truth

A teacher set her pupils to write a short essay on "Language," and one boy wrote the following:—"Good language is what we use at home and at school, but among ourselves we generally use bad language."

MUNITION'S TRADE BOOM

20 Per Cent. Increase in Pig Iron Production

The Japan Iron Manufacturing Company closed its accounts for the first half of its business year at the end of September.

According to an interim report just published, its production during the period showed an increase of approximately 20 per cent in pig iron and 15 per cent in steel material in comparison with the corresponding period of last year. This increase was caused largely by the munitions trade boom, it is explained.

Principal production particulars for the period under review are as follows (in thousand tons):

Works	Pig Iron	Steel	Steel material
Yawata	571	819	616
Rinzai	116	—	—
Kamataishi	126	91	55
Fuji	—	30	26
Kanjiho	103	30	11

"Excellent! You've kept your appointment right on the dot!" he exclaimed, as they met on the campus.

"I certainly did," she replied. "So you see, certain nations have nothing on me, have they?"

"You mean—for promptness?" he inquired.

"Certainly. You see, I always keep my mandates."

The Engineering Aspect OF EARTHQUAKE DAMAGES

The intrusion of earthquakes into human affairs must have long been attributed to those impressive occasions "When the stars twinkle through the loops of time," so that the study of the nature of these disturbances has naturally attracted the attention of philosophers in many ages. Seneca tells us that in his youth he had already written a treatise on earthquakes ("Alquando demota terrarum volumen juvenis ediderim") and it is to be regretted that this work by the tutor of Nero has not come down to later ages. There is little doubt that something more than mere speculation arose from the observations of these early philosophers, since in the "De divinatione" of Cicero reference is made to Pherecydes, "that famous Pythagorean master, who predicted an earthquake when he saw that the water had disappeared from a well which usually was filled." Our knowledge of the subject has advanced far from the position it occupied in those distant days, and the present science of seismology may be said to have commenced with the pioneer work of our own J. Milne, some fifty years ago. In the interval, a number of geophysicists and geologists have devoted themselves to the matter under consideration, with the result that our knowledge of the internal structure of the earth forms the basis of a well-defined study.

The Field Differs

The broad aim of the seismologist is that of obtaining data such as will enable him to study the formation and constitution of the earth, for which purpose the recording of distant earthquakes affords an excellent means of investigation. On the other hand, the data which mainly interests engineers cannot easily be derived from records taken with the delicate seismograph used in geophysical work on the transmission of the related stress-waves originating at a distant source, since the destructive effect on buildings is more or less localised near the origin of the disturbance. Thus the field of inquiry differs, and it is only within recent years that adequate attention has been given to the engineering aspect of the problem, in respect to which the intensive work of the late Dr. K. Suyehiro, who occupied the position of Director of the Earthquake Institute of Japan, ensures that his name will always be associated with the best traditions of the application of scientific methods to the study of this phenomenon. Engineers are also under an obligation to the late Mr. J. R. Freeman, Past-President of the American Society of Civil Engineers, for his comprehensive volume entitled "Earthquake Damage and Earthquake Insurance," since it is the result of a detailed study carried out in various countries during the course of many years.

Intense Shock

The introduction of the effects of these disturbances into problems of structural design naturally involves the determination of the period of oscillation of a proposed structure and, at the same time, the use of such constructive methods as will ensure that synchronism between the periods of the building and the assumed disturbing force is an improbable contingency. For obvious reasons, careful attention should be given to all questions connected with resonance, but this is not the only matter which enters into the problem, since study of a number of earthquakes, of various intensities, suggests that the most important characteristics include the magnitude of the acceleration, the period associated with the tremor, and the duration and number of shocks that cause appreciable damage.

THE CHIEF SCOUT

To Make A World Tour

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 6.

I had a long talk with Lord Baden-Powell to-day on the eve of his departure, in his 77th year, to Australia, Canada and the United States, writes a correspondent. He impressed me with his wonderful physical vigour and spirited zeal for his work and ideals as chief of the world Boy Scout movement, his aspirations to see the organisation he founded play a larger part in social amelioration and international peace, and his philosophy of happiness and usefulness. He confided to me that he had a particularly warm feeling for Glasgow, for it was while he had been on a visit to that city, he said, that he had stirred in him the idea of initiating the Boy Scout movement. He had a long talk with the late Sir William Smith about the Boys' Brigade and was impressed with its work and possibilities. Lord Baden-Powell thinks that the Boy Scout movement in Scotland is an exceptionally live organisation. He takes pride in the fact that it is self-supporting, but he confessed that he was envious of Universities receiving legacies for the advance of education, when, as he exclaimed, "What could I not do among the poor with £50,000?"

A Sober Programme

The Chief Scout reminded us that the aim of the movement is to produce citizens of character who are healthy, helpful, and he dwelt with justifiable pride on its international value and also on the fact that scouting has proved its worth not only among healthy children but among cripples, deaf and dumb boys, juvenile delinquents, and even the mentally deficient. Mr. S. M. Bruce, the Australian High Commissioner, described the Scout movement as "the most potent force for the peace of the world that has ever been conceived" and spoke of his feeling for the Chief Scout as "an admiration which almost approaches veneration." Lord Baden-Powell's first objective is the Australian Ambrose at Melbourne in December, which will be attended by Scouts from every country bordering on the Pacific and Indian oceans. But on the way he will visit his boys and girls in Gibraltar, France, Italy, Egypt, Ceylon, and the Malay States, and afterwards he will proceed to New Zealand, Rarotonga, Tahiti, San Francisco, Canada (where he will spend two months), and, finally, in July, New York. At the end of July he goes to Sweden for the International Rover Scouts' Meet.

Sore and throbbing gums often make baby cry during teething, but he is soon soothed with Woodward's Gripe Water:

For seventy-five years Woodward's has kept babies smiling; correcting indigestion, flatulence, colic, teething troubles. Contains no opiates, and is safe for babies of all ages.

Weak Teeth

are usually due to a lack of Calcium (lime) in the body

For Women

Kalzana is of the greatest value in regulating the bodily functions. Any lack of calcium results in pain and prostration, but these are quickly relieved as soon as the shortage is made good. By taking Kalzana, the scientifically approved calcium treatment, you can avoid pain and discomfort. By restoring the balance of calcium in a natural way, Kalzana must do you good, and cannot possibly be harmful.

Remember that your teeth are living parts of your body. The food they require is Kalzana, the calcium food. If your teeth get too little calcium, they become weak and liable to decay.

Such teeth are a constant cause of pain and trouble and never look healthy.

Start taking Kalzana and notice how quickly your teeth become strong and white. By taking Kalzana, pain and trouble are prevented, decay is arrested and your teeth strengthened.

Make your teeth strong and white with KALZANA

Weak and difficult Children are often so because of a lack of calcium in the body. Rapid growth demands a great deal of calcium to form strong bones and healthy tissues. When kept short of calcium children become nervous and moody, and difficult to manage.

Children

"A listless difficult Child" is a child whose constitution is out of order," writes a famous physician.

Rickets

are a sure sign of lack of calcium.

Give your child Kalzana, the calcium food. Kalzana will make his bones strong and straight, will overcome weakness and will prevent deformation.

After having examined a great many "cult" children, he writes: "I could prove that the blood of many so-called 'difficult' children was poor in Calcium."

Children take Kalzana Tablets like sweets, a sure sign that their system is in urgent need of it.

In Diarrhoea—

Kalzana hastens the healing of the ulcerated and inflamed areas and soothes the nerves. With Kalzana the diarrhoea will very quickly stop.

"By the use of 6 Kalzana tablets daily the Diarrhoea [in two severe cases] was stopped in an amazingly short time," writes Dr. ZUNTZ, the world famous Physician.

Lack of Calcium in the body causes many different complaints. Regain your health by taking

KALZANA

The Calcium Food

Made by the manufacturers of Sanatogen & Formamin

At all Chemists

Characteristic signs of lack of calcium in the body are:

- / Eczema
- / Night sweats
- / Inflammation of the Skin, caused through unhealthy blood.
- / Nettlerash
- / Colds of long duration
- / Bleeding of the Nose and other forms of excessive bleeding.
- / Loss of Hair
- / Tooth decay in grown-ups and children.

Before Baby comes

The expectant mother should be careful to remember that she must supply all the calcium needed to form her baby's bones and tissues. Kalzana gives all the extra calcium needed, and corrects any shortage in the mother's diet. It protects the mother against loss of hair, decay of the teeth, vomiting, general weakness, and debility, whilst it also ensures her baby against any predisposition to rickets.

Preserve your own health, and safeguard your baby's by taking Kalzana in good time.

(Use it during the last six months of your pregnancy).

Note

Only in the scientific form of Kalzana—a combination of calcium-lactate and sodium-lactate—are you sure that the calcium will be absorbed and retained by the body. Ordinary calcium administrations are often useless—it must be Kalzana.

The opinion of well-known medical papers about KALZANA:

"The Pharmaceutical Journal of New Zealand," Jan. 1930.

"Kalzana has been used with very good results in cases of calcium deficiency, such as bone disease, dental caries, rickets, weakness in growing children, during pregnancy and lactation—in fact in all cases where 'a diet with an excessive calcium content' is necessary."

Rickets was a typical sign of a lack of calcium. Kalzana will set all that right, and very soon your child will be happy and healthy again.

"The British Journal of Tuberculosis," April 1929:

"We have employed Kalzana with such advantage in the management of delicate children. It seems to be of considerable service in cases of rickets and other morbid conditions of bone and also as a preventive of dental caries for pregnant women. Kalzana is often beneficial."

THE ALHAMBRA "Convention City"

If laughter tends to crack your ribs or put an ache in your diaphragm, then you should be warned against "Convention City," the first National comedy which opens to-morrow at the Alhambra Theatre. On the other hand, if you can take it, you should be cautioned not to miss this uproarious film—in our judgment the screen riot of the season.

"Convention City," at its opening, sets a fast and furious pace—and that pace never slackens for an instant. Our first glimpse of the principal characters reveals them en route to Atlantic City—the nation's principal locale for salesmen's jamborees. From then until they struggle to the train once more, at the finish of a week's roistering, there is action, punch, surprise. Several individual stories are interwoven to form the main thread of this gay narrative—all of them working out to a conclusion against the background of the riotous convention.

Wives might even get a hint as to what friend husband is doing in the way of pursuing wild women when he is supposedly hard at work organizing his business. For there are almost as many love tangles in the picture as there are conventionists.

As a cast for this sprightly comedy, First National assembled one of the most impressive lists of "names" that has come out of Hollywood in many months. What better guarantee for an evening of hilarity than the appearance of Joan Blondell, Adolphe Menjou, Dick Powell, Mary Astor, Guy Kibbee, Frank McHugh—all in major roles? Add to these such players as Patricia Ellis, Ruth Donnelly, Hugh Herbert, Hobart Cavanaugh, Grant Mitchell, Gordon Westcott—and you have some idea of the acting talent that has been lavished on this film.

Archie Mayo, supreme in comedy, has directed "Convention City" and given it exactly the brisk tempo it demands. From one convulsing situation to another, it skims with lightness and dexterity. As comedy direction, Mayo's work has never been surpassed.

The original story is the work of Peter Milne, author of such screen plays as "The Kennel Murder Case," and "From Headquarters" and Robert Lord, has handled the adaptation with rare skill.

Unless you're too concerned about those ribs and diaphragm don't miss this rollicking picture. It is Hollywood comedy at its funniest.

CARNIVAL DAYS

Coming Next Week

There is one place in the East where you can drive without a licence, where there are no traffic cops to pull you up and demand your name and address, and where you can break all the rules of the road to your heart's content. "Where," you will ask, "is this motorists' Eutopia?" At Tait's Manila Carnival all this is possible on the greatest riding device ever brought to the East—the Dodgem: twenty small cars each under their own control, of their own drivers. These cars can be driven around over a fine, smooth, flat surface 50 by 80 feet, each car having a reverse gear so one can drive either forwards or backwards. "Don't they ever bump you get sometimes. But that does not matter, it is part of the fun. Each car is surrounded by a big rubber buffer, so one need not get frightened of a "smash up." That is impossible. You just bump and then glide off to bump someone else. The skillful driver will dodge 'em. It is wonderfully good sport, and what makes the ride so popular is that it is the only riding device that is operated by the individual himself.

Other riding devices that will be with the Carnival this season are the Big Wheel, a Slide, Merry-go-Round, and a new ride called the Leaping Lena.

Good side shows all new to Hong Kong include the motor-drome in which a motor-cyclist races a baby motor-car around the walls—a hair raising exhibition; the ever popular Hawaiian Hula dancers; the great Absolon with his magic show; living statues, vaudeville show; Tarzan; the ape man, who performs with snakes, and various other freaks and side shows which go to make up the Carnival. They open their Hong Kong season on the 31st October on the ground opposite the Peninsula Hotel, Kowloon. It is hoped that before the end of their season here the very latest amusement device which Mr. Tait has just bought from the Chicago Exhibition will arrive. This is a captive flying machine, on which one can actually learn to fly.

The big free act for this year's carnival is the World's champion high diver Peejay Higgins and his lady partner. This will be something entirely new for Hong Kong audiences, and being of an aquatic nature, should prove a big drawing card. For this performance no charge is made except the usual gate admission of 20 cents and 10 for children.

FILMS FOR SALVATION ARMY

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 6.

I understand that discussions are taking place between administrative officers of the Salvation Army and a religious films organisation regarding the introduction of moving pictures as a medium of evangelisation and entertainment, writes a correspondent. One of the most rigid rules of the Salvation Army is that none of its members and adherents may visit cinemas, but the Executive Council had the regulation under revision recently, and the discussions, now proceeding are the first indication that under Commander Evangeline Booth's leadership a break from traditional policy may be made in the next few months.

A. W. CARR AND NOTTS

Resignation Rumour

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 6.

A report that Mr. A. W. Carr had resigned the captaincy of the Notts Cricket Club was denied last night by Mr. E. A. Brown, secretary of the Notts Club.

Mr. Carr's period of office as captain expires at the annual meeting, which will take place in March next.

Mr. Carr said Mr. Brown in an interview, sent a letter in August tendering his resignation as a member of the committee of the club. There has been no meeting of the full committee since then.

Mr. Carr has been captain of Notts since 1919. He was England's captain in four matches against the Australians in 1926.

SHIRLEY'S CALL TO WORK

In "Baby Take A Bow"

Just because Shirley Temple, Fox Film five-year-old starlet, is unspooled and unprejudiced, the making of "Baby Take A Bow," in which she is featured with James Dunn and Claire Trevor, was something of a problem to Director Harry Lachman.

The freshness and innocence of Shirley's personality being of prime importance, the director and cast each day was faced with the necessity of devising new means to make the day's shooting into a game. Shirley loves to play at acting which, to the members of the cast is work.

The latest device hit upon by the ingenious Lachman was a duck call he dug out of his hunting kit. This served to call Shirley when she was wanted for another scene. The director discovered early in filming "Baby Take A Bow," that it was an impossibility to keep Shirley close at hand. Once a scene was photographed, she immediately skipped off to play and assistants had to look all over the big sound stage to find her.

Lachman's two toots on his duck call served to call Shirley and she thought it was great fun. As one punster remarked, it really was a ducky idea.

Upon one occasion, however, Shirley was standing directly by when she was wanted and didn't move into the set in spite of the fact that she knew she was wanted.

"What's the matter, Shirley?" Director Lachman asked, finally. "You forgot to give me my cue, Mr. Lachman," Shirley replied.

So the director tooted his horn and Shirley went to work! "Baby Take A Bow," which opens to-day at the King's Theatre is an exciting comedy-drama of one family, a youth, a girl and an adorable baby daughter, and of that family's struggle for happiness against suspicion and circumstance.

AT THE QUEEN'S

"Shoot The Works"

The Inimitable Jack Oakie with his Missouri accent and wisecracks and Ben Bernie's music are the principal features in the hilariously funny "Shoot The Works," the Paramount comedy which opens to-morrow at the Queen's Theatre.

The film is a comedy in rapid tempo. It takes music, song, romance—and a grand cast through a tempest of action which speeds its characters through side-shows, flea circuses, carnivals and the radio world, with intimate glimpses of each.

Oakie is pictured as a glib-tongued promoter of freak shows and flagpole sitting championships, with side excursions into twilight romances. Between business failures and forbidden kisses, he meets up with a beautiful singer, and is headed for the straight road when the dice throw him, and he loses his girl.

Oakie wins her later, but not until after many genuinely comic characters and an occasional bit of real romance and pathos weave in and out of the plot. Highlights in a secondary plot are Ben Bernie, the gag-spouting maestro, who leads his well-known lads in a story that is almost like a biography of the man himself. His music is both delightful and original.

Hysterically funny is Roscoe Karns, in the role of a goofy stunt flagpole sitter—who is in a constant turmoil about his phillandering sweetie while he stays aloft to win a sitting championship.

Stirling performances are given by Allison Skipworth, as Oakie's faithful and unselfish mother, and by William Frawley, who portrays a famous gossiping columnist.

But the palm for this rollicking film go out to Oakie, Ben Bernie, and the director, Wesley Ruggles, who made a splendid job of directing this film from the successful play by Ben Hecht and Gene Fowler.

This film serves to establish Ben Bernie and his collection of musical lads. The maestro is

AT THE ORIENTAL

"Murder At The Vanities"

Paramount's production of Earl Carroll's "Murder at the Vanities" will be seen at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The picture is a combination musical show and murder mystery play by Carroll and Rufus King. The new songs, in the topical Coslow-Johnston vein, are entitled "Cocktails for Two," "Lovely One," "My Gigolo," "Ebony Rhapsody," "Marahuana," "Live and Love Tonight" and "Where D. They Come From?"

Singing the songs in the picture, are Carl Brisson, sensational star of the London and European stage and screen. Duke Ellington and his famous orchestra are also featured. Victor McLaglen and Jack Oakie are entrusted with the comedy roles.

Others in the cast include Gertrude Michael, Toby Wing, Barbara Fritchie, and Dorothy Stickney.

The picture tells the story of a series of mysterious murders which take place back-stage in a New York theatre on the opening night of Earl Carroll's "Vanities." Despite the excitement, however, the show goes on. The film audience sees the "Vanities" show on one side of the curtain and is also witness to the solution of the dramatic murders' back-stage.

fortunate in having a good picture and story for his screen debut, and he makes the most of the opportunities in a role secondary only to Oakie's. The radio star gives considerable lift and jazz to the film through the playing of five outstanding songs, "With My Eyes Open," "Do I Love You," "In the Good Old Winter Time," and "A Bowl of Chop Suey and You-ey."

All things considered, there isn't an idle moment in the film. It is a comedy heartily recommended to people who want to laugh.

"THIRTY-DAY PRINCESS"

Coming To The King's

Sylvia Sidney makes her latest appearance for Paramount in the romantic comedy role of "Thirty-day Princess," adapted from Clarence Budington Kelland's famous magazine novel, which comes on Wednesday to the King's Theatre. Cary Grant is featured, and the supporting cast includes Edward Arnold, Vince Barnett, Lucien Littlefield, Henry Stephenson and Edgar Norton.

The film, (produced by B. P. Schulberg and directed by Marian Gering), is a comedy of events that occur when an American girl is called upon to enact the role of a European princess who has fallen ill, that she may impress American and secure a big bankers' loan for the princess' country.

The screen play is by Preston Sturges, noted Broadway playwright, and Frank Parton. Adaptation and dialogue are by Sam Hellman and Edwin Justus Mayer. The picture tells of Gresham, big "international" banker, who visits the little country, sees a big opportunity for floating a loan in the American market. The moment he gets a glimpse of the princess, Caterina, nicknamed "Zizi," he knows the loan is sure to go over if the Princess will come to America on a goodwill tour to impress America.

With Gresham, she arrives in New York. The Press is enthusiastic, with the exception of one newspaper, owned by Porter Madison, who sees through Gresham's scheme, decides to expose it in his publication.

HON. MR. BRAGA

The many friends of the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga will be glad to learn that he is now making favourable progress in hospital, where he has been confined for some weeks with gall trouble. Mr. Braga's condition at one-time gave cause for alarm, but I understand he has registered steady improvement every day for the past ten days and will be in a position to receive visitors probably next week. I am sure his many friends will join me in congratulating Mr. Braga on his happy recovery to health.

AFTER THIRTY YEARS

I am sure the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe who left the Colony on Wednesday must have carried away with him an indelible memory of his many friends in Hong Kong. The large gathering which assembled at Queen's Pier to see him off was ample testimony of his popularity. After thirty years in the Colony, Mr. Wolfe must have felt, when leaving Hong Kong for good on Wednesday, that he was going away from home, since the best part of his life was spent here and since he enjoyed the friendship of such a wide circle of people from all sections of the community. The Police Force will miss him, as he was a very popular Chief with them.

NEW U.S. CONSUL

During the week, Mr. Charles L. Hoover, the newly-appointed Consul General of the United States, in Hong Kong arrived. It may not be generally known that Mr. Hoover is a distant relation of President Hoover and that his record of service with the United States Government dates back to 1895. Mr. Hoover first passed through the Colony in 1909 so that in a sense he is no stranger here. He is also an author of no mean merit and has written several books. I am sure Hong Kong extends Mr. Hoover a warm welcome.

MR. L. S. GREENHILL

The Cricket Club will shortly be losing one of their most popular officers when Mr. L. S. Greenhill goes home on retirement. Mr. Greenhill can probably tell us more about Hong Kong cricket (or rather, interport cricket) than any other person in the Colony, with the possible exception of Messrs. Hancock and Pearce. The Cricket Club will be hard put to it to find a new Secretary to fill Mr. Greenhill's place as in sporting circles, the name Greenhill and the H.K.C.C. are almost synonymous.

PLAYGROUND NAMES

I think it is a happy idea that the two main playgrounds in Hong Kong and on the mainland should be called the Southern Playground and the MacPherson playground. Certainly no man ever worked harder for the cause of the children than did Mr. J. L. MacPherson; through whose instrumentality the playgrounds came into existence, and Mr. MacPherson could not have picked on a better man than Sir Thomas Southern to work with him in the task of providing playgrounds for the thousands of children in the crowded districts. Thanks to their joint efforts and the indefatigable assistance of men like Mr. M. K. Lo, Ko Sik Wai and others, the Children's Playgrounds have not only come into existence but have proved that they are filling a long felt need.

A LOCAL FILM!

Sometime next year, Hong Kong will have an opportunity, probably, of seeing on the screen quite a number of familiar faces, for I understand, it is contemplated that we might make one or more talking pictures in the Colony, in which local amateurs will be the stars. The whole project is in the embryo stage but I am sure we all hope that the film will be made, if only that we might compare local talent with Hollywood and Elstree!

INDIANS AT LOGGERHEADS

The case in which two Indians were charged with assaulting another came to an abrupt ending at Central Magistracy yesterday when the Magistrate (Mr. Macfadyen) discharged the defendants, remarking that it was useless to go any further as they would never get to the bottom of the trouble.

The parties concerned were Channan Singh, Guard No. 531, and Inder Singh, private watchman, who were charged with assaulting Magauder Singh, watchman of No. 38, Gloucester Building, in a lane at the rear of Exchange Building.

According to Sergeant Clarke, the nearest the police could get to the bottom of the trouble was that the complainant had a friend for whom he wanted to get a job as watchman at Whiteaway, Laidlaw's, and wanted Channan Singh who was employed as a watchman there to "get out of it." It was alleged by the complainant that while he was walking in the lane on Sunday, the two defendants called him and asked him for a loan of $2. He refused and alleged that he was taken into a doorway and beaten. That was his first story. Later he told the police that he was on a visit to the defendants when the incident occurred, and later went back to his original story. Sergeant Clarke added that when he went to the scene he saw both defendants drunk, and found seven empty rum bottles in their quarters.

In dismissing the case, his Worship warned both parties against any further altercation.

STOLEN VESTS

Chan Kam Fong, an employee of the Wing On Co. for the past seven years, was sentenced to one month's hard labour by Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy on a charge of stealing three woollen undershirts, the property of his employers.

It was stated that defendant's salary was $20 per month, with board and lodging. His character during his term of service had been fair.

Yung Kun Shing, another employee of the Wing On Co., and Leung Leung Sang, unemployed, were charged with receiving the property. It was stated that Leung was arrested while he was going into a pawnshop with a parcel which contained a woollen undershirt.

They were each sentenced to three weeks' hard labour.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY

For being in possession of 991 counterfeit Kwangtung twenty-cent pieces, Lap Yung Kwong, 17, unemployed, was fined $500 with the alternative of three months' hard labour by Mr. Macfadyen at Central Magistracy yesterday. It was stated that defendant was arrested by a Chinese revenue officer on the Tai Lee wharf on Wednesday night. The coins were in rolls in a basket.

BANISHED COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

Stated to have returned three times since he was banished from the Colony on December 31, 1931 for a period of ten years, Lok Ming, 20, was at Central Magistracy yesterday committed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions on a charge of committing a breach of the Deportation Ordinance.

The defendant was originally arrested for stealing a handbag containing a lady driver's licence, a compact set, two handkerchiefs and $10.11 from Miss P. Choo, of No. 5 Broadway Road on October 10. For this offence he had been sentenced to three months' hard labour.

You may find exactly what you want, and in buying it you will be helping the Colony's very poor children.

THE SCIENCE OF FLYING

Why Comet Won The Great Air Race

An interesting lecture was given to members of the University Engineering Society on Thursday last by Flight Lt. W. F. Murray during which he gave details of the remarkable machine that won the great air race from London to Melbourne.

Professor Middleton Smith, in introducing the lecturer, said that as soon as the heroes of the air landed in Melbourne, the Lord Mayor of that city stressed the fact that their amazing record was an inspiration to youth. The audience that night consisted of the youth of China, and amongst them were the pioneers of transport development of that huge country. Spectacular and heroic was the endurance and courage of the two men in the Comet, and the whole world was ringing with praise of those splendid human attributes which they had demonstrated. But the youth of the world must remember that behind that record was the courage of endurance of those men who had laboured through long hours of tedious study and discouraging (and even dangerous) experience, and self-denial of the pleasures sought by others of less vigour. The life of Faraday, Stewart-Ackroyd, Langley, the Wright brothers were quite heroic and courageous although almost unknown in detail to the general public. Flight Lt. Murray represented a branch of applied science brought vividly to the notice of everyone, including the boatman on the Yangtze, the tiller of the soil on the sad bean fields of Manchuria, and the farmer in the rice fields of Kwangtung; and he would tell them how they could become pioneers in the rapid development system of transport.

The Days Of Bleriot

In the course of his lecture, Flight Lt. Murray said that probably the first aerial vehicle to leave the ground was the famous hot air balloon, the invention of the brothers Joseph and Jacques Montgolfier.

The suggestion of their balloon came to them in France in 1783 from observing that thick opaque clouds of smoke rose high into the air.

Linen and material was readily accessible to them at their father's paper factory near Lyons, and they resolved to try whether a large balloon some thirty three feet in diameter filled with smoke vapours, would rise in the air.

On the 15th of September, 1783, Joseph Montgolfier was brought to Marseilles to give a demonstration of his new invention in the presence of the King and Queen. On this occasion his balloon rose 1500 feet into the air carrying with it a sheep, a cock and a duck (as far as records show) the first living passengers to leave the earth.

But from then until the present time, lighter-than-air craft have made rapid progress. The cost has been appalling, both in materials and life. The only fitting monument to those brave early pioneers who gave their lives battling to learn more of the unknown, is aviation as we see it to-day and its all round benefits to mankind.

The Modern Plane

So much for the balloon or gas bags. I will now touch very briefly on the early heavier-than-air contrivances in which man risked his neck and sometimes his reputation, trying out their weird experiments with man-made kites and gliders.

Professor Langley's own model steam driven aircraft was produced and successfully flown in 1896. The engine, constructed by himself weighed only 7 lbs. and developed 1 horse-power, which served to drive two airscrews revolving in opposite directions.

D. H. "COMET"
Winner of London-Melbourne Air Race.
(Note Stream-lining—the wheels are lifted and shielded in the air)

It was with Langley as it was with Plicher and the Wrights; he had to make his own engine. By 1901 he had completed with the aid of his assistants, an engine of forty horse power weighing with all its appurtenances, less than five pounds to the H.P. A year and a half more was spent in adopting and co-ordinating the frame and appliances and in carrying out the shop tests. At last on October 7, 1903 from a place forty miles from Washington the first trial was made.

the comfort of an easy chair. One can enjoy the pleasures of well-cooked meals—refreshments—reading—music—and a variety of other forms of entertainment.

One Hundred and Forty Passengers

Large flying boats powered by as many as 12 engines developing a total of something like 5,000 horse power and capable of taking into the air 140 passengers are already in existence.

It has been my good fortune to have flown in one such aircraft. Large aeroplanes on the European and African air routes daily wing their way carrying as many as 40 passengers, and a good paying load of mails, thus speeding up transport to an extent hitherto unknown.

Air transport on well organized air routes is becoming so safe that on many of the lines, insurance rates are actually lower than those for rail and sea voyaging.

Private flying is becoming increasingly popular and a very useful machine can now be purchased for as little as £1,000.

Now, why should we be interested in flying? We should all, I think, believe in its future because only by aviation will it be possible to speed up world communication, and as has been proved over and over again in history, bigger unities of peoples are only achieved as speed and ease of communications increase.

Not Difficult To Fly

Time does not allow me to tell you of the many uses of aircraft other than that of transportation. Ambulance work—mail carrying—crop dusting—map making—surveying—policing—forest fire fighting—bandit suppression are only a few of the jobs that can be carried out much cheaper and more efficiently than by any other means.

You can own a private aeroplane. This opens out great possibilities, especially in a country like China, where surface communication is so tiring and difficult. At present some parts of China suffer through lack of

EUROPEAN LADY ASSAULTED

Chinese Lad Charged

Miss Muriel Smith, of No. 2 Kennedy Road, appeared as complainant before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday in the case in which a Chinese lad was charged with common assault at Battery Road at about 8 o'clock on Thursday night.

Outlining the facts of the case, Sergeant Clarke said that complainant and her mother were walking along Battery Path when, near the top, the defendant came up to them from behind. Complainant's mother saw him swooping down, and screamed out. At the same time complainant felt a hand on her leg. Defendant ran away but was caught by an Indian constable.

Sergeant Clarke then asked for a remand as the defendant's father wished to produce a birth certificate to prove that, by Chinese reckoning, defendant was only 15.

His Worship adjourned the case for seven days for further enquiries, and ordered the defendant to be medically examined. If Dr. Pringle, of the Medical Department, thought defendant was over 16, his Worship would remand him in police custody otherwise he would send him to the Remand Home.

An application for bail was then made by defendant's father but his Worship refused, remarking that there might be the possibility of a more serious charge.

Later, his Worship remarked that he had had a talk with Dr. Pringle, who had examined the defendant, and was told that although Dr. Pringle was of the opinion that defendant was over 16, he was not prepared to be definite.

Under these circumstances, he decided to regard defendant as a juvenile until it was proved to the contrary.

Defendant was accordingly sent to the Remand Home.

AROUND THE COURTS

Before Mr. Hamilton, Mr. E. H. Watts, salesman at Lane, Crawford's Ltd. was fined $10 for not having a licensed driver with him when learning to drive private car No. 2182 at Shaukiwan.

Defendant said he was under the impression that the man he had with him was a licensed driver. The man was a mechanic.

Defendant admitted a previous conviction last week.

Yeung Chan-kwong, driver of public car No. 730, was fined $20 for having driven in a dangerous manner in Stubbs Road by over-taking another moving vehicle on a bend. Defendant admitted a previous conviction for a similar offence.

Lam Yau-hung, driver of private car No. 401, summoned for having overtaken a moving bus on a bend in Pokfulam Road past the University Cricket ground, and Chan Kam-fat, driver of private car No. 2555, summoned for a similar offence in Pokfulam Road, were each fined $10.

Li Heung, driver of taxicab No. 896, was fined $5 for dangerous driving in Stubbs Road. It was alleged that defendant failed to keep to the left hand side of the road on the day of a Chinese festival.

Kowloon

At Kowloon magistracy before Mr. Wynne-Jones, C. Balyozian, of the Palace Hotel, was fined $5 for leaving his car No. 72 in Fife Street. Defendant was instructed to find suitable garaging accommodation for his car, and to inform the police.

Mr. Harvey, driver of private car No. 4156, was summoned for failing to carry a red rear lamp on his car, at 10.45 p.m. on September 23. Defendant admitted the offence, but stated that the lamp had gone out. He was fined $3.

NO PASSPORTS

Two Polish subjects, Peter Berblum (23) and Enik Jacksons (18), were charged before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday with entering the Colony without valid passports on October 23.

It was stated that defendants arrived in the Colony from Macao on October 23, and were arrested the following day. They had been imprisoned for two months in Canton and were sent to Macao from there.

On being informed by Berblum that he and Jacksons were sent to Hong Kong by the Macao Police, his worship adjourned the case for seven days for enquiries. Bail was fixed at $250 each.

Arab Sent to Prison

On a charge of having absented himself from the House of Detention from September 28 to October 24, Ali Mohamed, a Russian-speaking Arab, was sentenced to two months' hard labour. It was stated that defendant was committed to the House of Detention on September 27 pending arrangements for him to be deported.

European On Serious Charge Hearing has been fixed for November 1 at 2.30 p.m. for the case against Geoffrey Fitzgerald Gilbert who is being charged with the embezzlement of $4,800 from Messrs. Arnold and Company.

When the case was brought before Mr. Macdougall at Central Magistracy yesterday, Detective Inspector J. Murphy, applied for a remand, saying that the Crown would like to consider whether the prisoner should be committed for trial or dealt with summarily.

Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios, for the defence, said he had no objection to a remand. Bail was fixed for $10,000.

FORGED COUPONS

In consequence of a report made by the British-American Tobacco Co. (China) Ltd. that false cigarette coupons were being sold in the market, a raid was made by Inspector M. Murphy on the first floor of No. 3, Sugar Street where two dies, one in English and one in Chinese, and a number of forged coupons were seized.

A man named Ko Man was arrested on the premises, and he was brought before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday on three charges: (1) of having in his possession forged dies purporting to be those of the B.A.T. Company, (2) forging 143 cigarette coupons, and (3) possession of 143 forged cigarette coupons.

The defendant admitted all the charges and a total sentence of twelve months' hard labour was passed.

THE WRIGHT BROTHERS' BIPLANE.

In the light of present knowledge, some of the schemes were so weird as to be almost ludicrous; but there were some that came very near to success and a few that actually embodied many principles now in practice but lacking some vital element necessary to success. Such an apparatus was designed in the early part of the nineteenth century by an Englishman, Sir George Cayley. It was the first move towards the heavier-than-air craft but it came before the days of the internal combustion engine and therefore with the lacking of a suitable power plant, was not even constructed.

Langley, Plicher, Lilienthal, Chanute and others were all killed car-

A Notable Event

The hop made by the Wright brothers in America in December 1903 is generally considered the first step that was made towards practical flying and is regarded as the original starting point. In reality these two pioneers were fortunate to get into the air before anyone else as there were a number of experimenters in various parts of the world all working towards the same point and very shortly after this first flight was made, a number of others were claiming success. The original first aeroplane weighed six hundred pounds including the operator and an eight horse power motor.

RAILWAYS ON THE MEND

It would perhaps be no exaggeration to say that even the managers themselves are surprised at the buoyancy of the weekly railway traffic returns at Home, and though the rate of increase has slackened somewhat since the turn of the half-year, it must be said that this was not altogether unexpected. The reason is that for the first half-year the comparison was with a period when receipts had reached their lowest point since the beginning of the depression. There was a rapid improvement so that the comparison is now against a period not of falling but of rising receipts, but even under these circumstances the increase is being maintained steadily, at the rate of approximately £100,000 a week. It is all the more gratifying when it is noted that more than half of this increase is in respect of merchandise and coal so that the increase cannot be attributed to fine weather or other advantageous inducements to travel. At a time like this when some of the other trade indices are showing signs of weakness and all sundry are beginning to doubt if recovery is stagnating, the railways are throwing the substantial weight of their evidence to reassure those of the public who are losing confidence. And as few barometers are more sensitive to current trade conditions than railway traffic, the evidence provided by the railway is all the more—or at least it should be—reliable.

Even that long suffering individual, the railway stockholder, may perhaps, at last, venture to indulge in the luxury of a little hope. As he watched the value of

F.B.I. REPRESENTATIVES UNOFFICIAL BODY

London, Oct. 25. Mr. Norman Davis with Mr. Atherton of the United States Embassy visited Downing Street to-day for a discussion with the Prime Minister and Sir John Simon in connection with the naval conversations now proceeding in London. The British and Japanese representatives will meet again to-morrow. Meanwhile, rumours that a revival of Anglo-Japanese alliance is under contemplation are officially denied. They apparently arose from reports of trade discussions in Tokyo between representatives of the Federation of British Industries and corresponding Japanese organisation. The Federation of British Industries is purely a commercial and an entirely unofficial organisation and it has already been made emphatically clear by, among others, the delegates themselves, the deputation now visiting the Far East has no official status or authority.

his holdings rise to unaccustomed levels earlier in the year, he was full of expectancy but then that proved to be only temporary for gloom descended upon him once again. Two factors contributed to that state of affairs. First of all was the warnings of the managers that the second half-year was unlikely to repeat the performance of the first, and then the ill-timed claim of the Unions for more wages came into the picture. The concessions made recently will only affect the net earnings of the current year to an insignificant extent but the prospect of further claims in the near future threatens the market. Perhaps if the Unions were to consult the interests of the industry, they would abstain from premature demands. After all, if capital were staved the natural conclusion would be the imposing of efficiency and at the same time expansion will be retarded.

"HALLOWE'EN" DINNER

Colourful Scene Last Night

Amidst a colourful scene of flags and holly and with the Scots' National Flag draped to the rear of the main table, "Hallowe'en" was celebrated at the Hong Kong Volunteer Headquarters last night by one of the largest and most distinguished gatherings which have yet been held under the auspices of the Hong Kong Scottish Company.

Activities Reviewed

The "haggis" was piped in, in traditional style and a true Scots selection of dishes provided the Bill of Fare.

Following the Royal Toast, Capt. Forsyth proposed the toasts of "Our Guests" and reviewed the activities of the Scottish Company during the year. He paid tribute to the assistance of the South Wales Borderers' instructors and noted with gratification the improvement of the Company's performances in machine gun operation. The Company's strength was 44 at the moment though some of them were on holiday.

Mr. Mackichan in reply said:—He was an ex-member of the Hong Kong Scottish Company and in looking back on his membership, he said he remembered the formation of the Company in 1919 and its various vicissitudes. He was glad to note that its enthusiasm was still maintained and that the Scots Company had always stood for the rights of the Scotsman in the Far East.

Songs and Dances

The programme was interspersed with songs and dances, the items being "Scots Wha Hae" sung by the Company, a bagpipe selection, song by Angus Daddies, sword dance "Strathspey" by the pipers, selected songs by the Company, and a pipe selection by the pipers. Mr. J. J. Ferguson was the accompanist.

ELIMINATION OF REDS

United Front In Szechuan

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Chungking, Oct. 25. The retirement of General Liu Hsiang has caused a complete standstill in the operations against the Communists in Szechuan, but reports circulated that the Red army is stronger than the provincial forces are unfounded. The Red forces in Szechuan and the provincial forces are almost tenfold. The latter's reverse some time ago was not due to inferior fighting ability but to lack of co-operation in the units since General Liu Hsiang's resumption of duty in Szechuan. The Generals realised the provinces' precarious position and pledged unreserved support. A united front is facilitating the elimination of the Red menace.

The transfer lately of troops of General Kuo Ju Tung, division commander in Szechuan, to join the campaign in Hunan under instructions from General Chiang Kai Shek, indicates that the province is closely co-operating with general headquarters.

General Liu Hsiang is proceeding to Hankow shortly to confer with the Generalissimo.

LUXURY CRUISES

In Search Of Sunshine

Details are now announced by the Cunard White Star Line of their winter cruising programme.

Cruises will be made from Southampton and Liverpool of from 15 to 45 days' duration, while the Franconia will make a round-the-world cruise from New York lasting nearly five months.

A notable feature of these cruises is that the cost brings a winter holiday within the reach of the average man in the street. The Homeric, the largest vessel cruising regularly from Great Britain, opens the season with a 15-day Christmas cruise to Lisbon, Canary Isles and the Tropics. Passengers will spend Christmas Day on the high seas and Boxing Day at Las Palmas. After leaving Las Palmas the Homeric will proceed south for approximately 675 miles into southern sunshine, making her next port of call Tenerife on Dec. 30 and Madeira on New Year's Day. The cost of this cruise is from 25 guineas.

World Cruise

The Franconia's cruise commences at New York on Jan. 12, the minimum rate being 395 guineas, which includes the Atlantic voyage to and from New York before and after the cruise. The Franconia will visit 25 ports and cover nearly 38,000 miles.

A 45 days' voyage to the West Indies is the next in the list. This will be made by the Homeric from Southampton at the end of January, returning on March 12. Three days later the Homeric will again make for summer weather, this time to the Mediterranean, Egypt and Palestine. Her final cruise before the summer season will be Eastern cruise to the Riviera, Italy and Algiers.

Liverpool is also catered for in this programme, and on Feb. 6, the Laconia will depart for a 35 days' cruise to the Mediterranean, Palestine, Egypt and Holy Land. The Aquitania will be making two cruises from New York to the Mediterranean, covering January to April, and a 12 possible for passengers to arrange to sail on the first cruise and remain at port. Said re-embarking when the ship calls on her second cruise.

TOKYO APPROACHED BY POWERS

Manchukuo's Oil Policy Irregularity

Washington, Oct. 25. The Government has made representations to Japan as regards the Manchukuo Government's announcement that she intends to establish an oil monopoly.

The representation was based on the ground that a monopoly would be detrimental to the interest of American oil companies, especially the Standard Oil Company and a violation of the Open Door Policy as well as the Nine Power Treaty. It is understood here that the British and Netherlands governments are also making representations.—Reuter.

BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE

London, Oct. 25. It is learned that the British Government, through the British Consul in Tientsin and the British Ambassador in Tokyo has made representations in regard to the Manchukuo Government's announcement of their intention to establish an oil monopoly on the ground that the proposal is a violation in spirit and letter of Article three of the Nine Power Treaty.—Reuter.

JAPAN'S POSITION

EGYPT'S HOME POLITICS

Accusations Of Interference

London, Oct. 25. The continued ill-health of King Fuad has occasioned an Anglo-Egyptian diplomatic incident which has strained the relations of the Residency with Premier Yehia Pasha, who accuses Mr. Maurice Peterson, acting High Commissioner in the absence of Sir Miles Lampson, with improper interference with Egypt's home politics.

KING FUAD

The Egyptian constitution does not provide for a regent in the event of the king's incapacity. According to reports from Cairo, Premier Yehia Pasha sought advice from Mr. Peterson in this connection and the acting High Commissioner consulted White Hall and advised Yehia Pasha to appoint a new chief of the Royal Cabinet as a liaison officer between the King, the Cabinet and the Residency. This post had not been filled since 1931 and the advice was unpalatable.

Yehia Pasha denies that he sought British counsel, and out of this comes the accusation of Mr. Peterson's interference.

Neither Wafdists or Liberals appear to be alarmed, and have not rallied to defend the Government. Further reports from Cairo indicate that Ibrahim Pasha, Controller of the Royal Estates, and two of his friends, have formed a sort of triumvirate and are wielding undue influence in affairs of state.—Reuter.

THE U. S. FLEET

Panama, Oct. 25. The combined United States Atlantic and Pacific fleets of eighty-eight vessels rushed through the Panama Canal from the Caribbean Sea to the Pacific Ocean in thirty-nine hours, eight hours less than the last time when seventy-one ships passed in the reverse direction. The airplane carriers, Lexington and Saratoga took twelve hours owing to their width which almost equalled Gatun.

PROGRESS IN AIR RACE

London, Oct. 25. Meanwhile, Colonel Fitzgerald, who withdrew his Bellanca from the race because he wanted to carry 8,000 pounds weight of petrol when his American certificate of airworthiness authorised him to carry only 5,000 pounds, has now passed necessary tests with the former amount and may leave Lympne for Australia to-morrow in the hope of breaking Scott and Black's time for the journey—71 hours.—British Wireless.

LLOYD GEORGE'S WAR MEMOIRS

British Lives Squandered In A Quagmire

London, Oct. 26. An intensely bitter attack against the late Field Marshals Haig and Robertson for the slaughter at Passchendaele is the outstanding feature of the fourth volume of Mr. Lloyd George's War Memoirs published to-day.

The War Premier vividly and ruthlessly describes Passchendaele as one of the blackest horrors in history and one of the greatest disasters in the Great War, declaring that 400,000 British lives were squandered in a quagmire in order to satisfy the vanity and insane egotism of Haig, who willfully and skillfully misled the Cabinet and withheld facts which would have ended in futile destruction.

After promising that there would be no heavy losses, Haig gambled on the chance of a German breakthrough rather than confess his failure to the politicians who had deposed him. General French for a less stuporous error and judgment at Loos.—Reuter.

AIR LINE TO FAR EAST

Hong Kong Possible Air Point

Group Captain R. P. Wilcock, Air Attache to China, left Singapore for Shanghai yesterday eminently satisfied with his recent consultation with Sir Philip Sassoon, Under-Secretary for Air, regarding the development of military and commercial aviation in China, says the Singapore Free Press.

Group Captain Wilcock made a special trip to Singapore to interview Sir Philip while he was in Malaya.

It was Sir Philip's opinion that commercial aviation must necessarily be international in character. The main routes in China to-day are Shanghai-Canton, Shanghai-Peking, Peking-Hankow-Canton, Shanghai-Hankow-Chengtu, Shanghai-Sianfu-Lanchowfu. These are operated by Sino-American and Sino-German companies.

It was agreed that it was eminently desirable that there should be no further delay in linking up China with the main England-Australia air route to enable the rapid conveyance of both mails and passengers between Europe and China.

Chinese residents in Malaya would be the first to recognise the importance of inaugurating and developing an air route to China and one might say without fear of contradiction that they would welcome the extension of the Imperial Airways route in the direction of their own country.

Hong Kong stands out as the focal point of conveyance of both air and ship borne mails and passenger traffic, and although China is not a signatory State to the International Convention, there is little doubt that China would also welcome the establishment of an air route from Malaya to Hong Kong and the development of Hong Kong into one of the principal air points in the Far East.

In 1931 the Eurasia Aviation Corporation inaugurated a service from Shanghai to Manchouli via Nanking and Peking, with the object of establishing a through air-mail connection with Europe through Russia.

U. S. TRADE

Washington, Oct. 26. The United States had a favourable balance of 60 million dollars in September. Exports totalled 192 million dollars and imports 132 million. Cuban trade showed improvement in that exports to Cuba increased to $3,380,000 compared with $1,902,000 in 1933. Imports from Cuba correspondingly increased by $700,000.—Reuter.

END OF THE TOUR

Australian Farewell

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 4. The last festivity of the Australian cricketers in England was the farewell dinner given by Mr. Jim Foley, the Irish-Australian Nigerian tin magnate, to his fellow Irish-Australians, Stanley McCabe and "Tiger" O'Reilly.

The guests included such well-known cricketers as A. C. MacLaren, Percy Chapman and Patsy Hendren.

The dinner was voted the cheeriest show the Australians have had on this side of the hemisphere. It did more to blot out any unpleasant memories of the tour than all the M.C.C. and Board of Control resolutions would do in a month of Sundays.

MacLaren and Chapman spoke for English cricket, Stan McCabe, O'Reilly and Darling for Australia.

Why We Lost

There was a frank exchange of views between cricketers. The Australians are unanimous in regarding Larwood as the best fast bowler in the world. They think that, bowling in the normal way, he would have taken many wickets in the Tests.

They are equally emphatic that Leyland would be their first pick after Bradman for an All-world XI.

They consider themselves very fortunate that England did not put Leyland in first wicket, where he would probably have knocked Grimmett off his length.

They dreaded this all through the tour, more especially as they consider that Grimmett is nothing like the bowler he was some years ago.

Too Much Coaching

Another defect which they notice in English cricket is the excess of coaching in our private and public schools.

They believe that it cramps natural ability. In Australia past a dozen public schools are run on English lines. They have produced remarkably few Test cricketers.

DON BRADMAN

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 6. There was reassuring news of the condition of Don Bradman during the week-end. "Don" was in a satisfactory condition on Saturday morning. The medical bulletin stated that he was "holding his own well."

Yesterday morning the news was "OK." Bradman had a good night. His temperature is down, his pulse is good, and his condition satisfactory. A later bulletin reported: "His pulse is good and his condition is satisfactory."

THE ROYAL WEDDING

Arrangements For Honeymoon

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, October 8. It is stated that the Duke of Kent and Princess Marina will spend the first part of their honeymoon in England, afterwards going abroad for a time during the New Year. It is expected that they will join the King and Queen at Sandringham for Christmas.

The Westminster City Council will consider a proposal to seek permission to present a congratulatory address to the Duke and Duchess of Kent on the occasion of their marriage. It is proposed that the streets through which the bride and bridegroom will pass to and from the Abbey be decorated, and that an expenditure of £600 be authorized in respect of the address and decorations.

It is suggested that permission of the Office of Works be asked to erect two covered stands in Parliament Square; 40 seats to be offered to the Office of Works at cost price, and a charge of £1 is a seat to be made for the remainder.

GERMANY AND POLAND

To Raise Status Of Legations

(Special to "Hong Kong Daily Press")

(By Telegraph, Copyright, Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Received, October 26, 1.30 p.m.)

Berlin, October 26. It was announced last night that the German and Polish Governments have agreed to raise their legations in Berlin and Warsaw respectively to the rank of embassies as from November 1.

The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, in commenting on the agreement, draws attention to the fact that by the establishment of a German Embassy in Warsaw, Poland's position as a big Power is being particularly recognised and stressed by Adolf Hitler's Third Reich. The paper considers the new move as the first fruit of the bilateral agreements which, if based on mutual confidence and respect, serve the cause of peace much more than the whole bunch of regional pacts.—Transocean Kuo Min.

OPPOSITION TO GOVERNMENT

Discord In French Parliament

Nantes, Oct. 25.

The existence of the present National Government in France is threatened by opposition of the Radical-Socialists, the strongest single party in Parliament, to the Premier's proposals of constitutional reform.

The Radical Socialist Congress which opened here to-day passed a resolution condemning Doumergue's proposal. The Premier has the right to dissolve parliament without awaiting the consent of the Senate.

It is expected that the speech of the Radical-Socialist leader, Herriot, on Saturday will finally determine the attitude of the Congress.—Reuter.

POLITICAL CHAOS?

Successful Operation

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Oct. 6.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, who resigned for so long as "Queen of the Tennis Courts," was operated on to-day in the American Hospital in Neuilly, Paris.

Dr. Martel was the surgeon, and after the operation this statement was made to Reuter:

"The operation was successful, and Mlle. Lenglen's condition is satisfactory."

"She should make a quick recovery and there is no reason why she should not play tennis again as well as ever."

It is understood that the operation was not a serious one.

While waiting to be taken to the operating theatre, Mlle. Lenglen read many messages from friends and chatted in a cheerful manner.

TRANS-PACIFIC AIR SERVICE

Only A Question Of A Few Months

Los Angeles, Oct. 16.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, a director of the Pan American Airways, said here to-day that "it is only a question of a few months until regular three-day airplane service is a fact between California and the Far East."

"Plans for a trans-Pacific service between California and China by way of Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines have been in process of formation for two years," he declared.

Whitney and J. T. Tripp, president of Pan American, which has operated regular service between North and South America for six years, have been here and at San Francisco for a week considering possible sites for a terminus for the Pacific line.

Whitney said survey flights to the Orient would be made probably Jan. 1. Experienced pilots will fly the route in huge seaplanes, then will carry mail and express and later passengers, he said.

Better Conditions

Climatic and commercial conditions are better in the Pacific basin than in the Atlantic, is Whitney's opinion. He said that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who is a Pan American director, would recommend the terminal headquarters.

That plans for the long-talked-of Pacific service were nearly ready to be put into effect was revealed last week by Tripp in a letter to Postmaster General James A. Far-

INTERNATIONAL REMITTANCES

Baltic Money Market

Barometer

Shipowners are constantly faced with the foreign exchange problem.

The transfer of money from one country to another is not only attended with all sorts of difficulties these days, but is accompanied by the question of when, as well as how, to transmit. Some have become adepts at knowing which way the cat is likely to jump. Prior to the improvement in the Argentine exchange substantial sums were remitted by London shipowners. The fact did not go unnoticed in the foreign exchange market, and there is now a tendency on the part of the money market, constantly to tap the Baltic for its opinion, particularly regarding forward prospects. This may sound rather flattering, but there are solid grounds for the complimentary interest which is now evident. Since the 1928 slump international trade has contracted so much under the influence of the "national self-sufficiency" gospel that money payments between nations have been chiefly for financial or debt services. Payments for goods and commercial services have been made largely out of "frozen" funds; thus, trade remittances have not had a great deal of influence upon foreign exchanges, which have responded mainly to political prospects. Recently, however, the whole position has changed. The recovery in international trade which has been so plainly evident in freight markets has also affected money markets. Exchange restrictions have been relaxed in many directions, enabling money to be remitted with some degree of freedom, and once again foreign exchange is needed substantially for trade payments instead of being used principally for investment, debt, and other similar financial requirements. The Baltic is a place where large-scale commodity movements are easily watched. Heavy buying or selling may be followed closely and forthcoming money transfers calculated, both as regards size and date.

ley, stating planes carrying 32 passengers and capable of a speed of 200 miles an hour would be used.

"In view of the aggressive steps now being taken by European nations to entrench international air lines in the Far East, we feel it now appears practicable for Pan American Airways to consider instituting at an early date an experimental air transport service to link our existing operations in the Far East with California," Tripp wrote Farley.

NEWS AND COMMENTS FROM THE NORTH

E. Kann On Silver Duty

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Shanghai, Oct. 19.

While Chinese financial circles are unanimous in their satisfaction over the recent imposition of the Customs duty on silver exports, the opinions of local foreign interests are divided. The objection from some quarters are based on the belief that this protective measure will cause the price of imported goods to rise and thus act as a check on imports.

Mr. E. Kann, the noted authority on currency and monetary matters of the Far East, is, however, one who favours the recent decision of the Finance Ministry. In his address yesterday, "The Currency Crisis in China," before the gathering of local Rotarians, he expressed his admiration for the patience and restraint shown by the Chinese Government towards the outflow of silver in the last months.

"There were three plans for consideration before the authorities," he said, "the first was an embargo on silver, but that plan was considered and discarded. I think rightly, because an embargo may bring more disagreeable surprises than good. The second was a graduated scale of export duties, which has been selected and put into effect. The third was a very interesting point—the discarding of silver currency, and the introduction of the gold standard into China."

Maintaining that "the procedure which has been adopted is possibly a forerunner to the eventual introduction of a gold currency, which would, in a way, be very desirable," Mr. Kann regarded China as not quite ready at the moment for such an introduction. And, without discrediting the seriousness of the present currency situation, he yet discounted the necessity for the recent panic in the market, and appealed to those present "to assist in the maintenance of cool heads," and asserted that "there is no cause for alarm in the present situation."

CANTON NEWS AND NOTES

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Oct. 26.

The Canton Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution that hereafter all contracts entered into between Chinese and foreign merchants must be written in the Chinese language. This step is "to maintain national dignity and honour" and for the convenience of Chinese merchants.

Whether this resolution can be carried out remains to be seen. The existing practice is that all contracts between foreign and Chinese merchants are written in English, which is a common knowledge in China among foreign firms. Many Chinese understand English, but few foreigners can read or write Chinese.

Tang Resigns All Jobs

Mr. Tang Shao Yi has submitted a petition to the South-west Political Council setting forth his resignation from that Council and the Kwangtung Provincial Government. Poor health and high blood pressure are the reasons of his retirement from Government posts.

Until recently Mr. Tang was magistrate of the so-called model county of Chungshan, whose people raised the hue and cry that Mr. Tang was not enough of a model to govern, a model country. In disgust, Mr. Tang went to Hong Kong for a prolonged rest. A member of the Kuomintang Central Supervisory Com-

CONGRESS POSTPONEMENT ACCLAIMED

Shanghai, Oct. 26.

The news of the postponement of the Fifth National Congress has been well received in political circles, who believe that the breathing space thus afforded might result in an amicable solution of the issues dividing Nanking and Canton.

Mr. Tang was formerly Prime Minister of the Peking Government.

More Periodicals Banned

Three magazines—published by leading printing houses in Shanghai—are prohibited from sale in local bookstores by recommendation of the new South-west Executive Committee, and Censoring Bureau located inside the Kuomintang South-west Executive Committee. These publications are "Bankruptcy of Marriage," which preaches sexual immorality, "National Bi-monthly Correspondence," which creates all sorts of rumours and publishes insulting remarks against the South-west, "China's Rural Economic Comment," which advocates Communism.

All bookstores, newsstands, publishing companies, newspapers, news boys are instructed to present themselves at the Censorship bureau to register again before they are allowed to carry on business. Previous registration permits issued by the bureau before reorganization are now null and void.

TRADE TREATY

Australia - Japan Pact Limited

Smooth progress is being made in the negotiations between Mr. Mural, the Japanese Consul-General in Sydney, and the Australian Government over the suggested conclusion of a commercial treaty between the two countries.

Since Japan is one of the largest buyers of Australian wool, it is only natural that favourable progress should be made. The friendly attitude taken by the Australian Government towards Japan, especially since the visit of Mr. Latham, the Australian Foreign Minister, is another reason given by the Japanese press.

As regards the nature of the new treaty, the original intention of the Japanese Government was to provide for freedom of commerce and navigation, freedom of residence for trading and other matters so as to make it a de facto commercial treaty. But because of domestic circumstances in Australia, and its position as a member of the British Empire, there are difficulties in the way.

It is generally believed that the new treaty will cover only tariff problems. The application of the most favoured nation clause as the conventional tariff to Japanese articles, will be the kernel of the agreement in that event. As regards several principal articles, new tariff rates may be fixed.

HEAVY BANDIT CASUALTIES

Firearms Taken

Canton, Oct. 26.

The Communist bandits who ran down from Central Kiangsi in an attempt to make off to the west have been defeated and dispersed by the troops of the Kuomintang 1st Army Corps which are now still in hot pursuit in order to eliminate the Red menace in Kiangsi in short time.

During the past few days, many reports of victories were received from the 1st Army Corps. Yesterday another one reached here, which states that the troops of the 1st Division of the 1st Army Corps, which were sent to pursue the bandits, besieged the latter on 25th inst. As a result, over 600 bandits were killed, more than 200 captured, and 7 machine guns, 7 automatic guns, and over 400 rifles taken. The remnants retreated toward Koopee.

CUSTOM HOUSE IN KOWLOON

Opposition Voiced In Canton

Canton, Oct. 26.

In opposition to the creation of a custom house in Kowloon, suggested by the Ministry of Finance, the Provincial and the City Chambers of Commerce in conjunction with the Mechanics' Association and the Seamen's Association held a meeting yesterday for adoption of means to cope with the issue.

At the meeting, it was decided that a conference of various guilds be held on October 30 for discussion on the matter and that they will petition the Southwest Executive Committee of Kuomintang, the Southwest Political Council, and the Provincial government for help.

SHANGHAI GATHERING

Shanghai, Oct. 22.

Mr. Ronald McDonald, the retiring President of St. Andrew's Society, was fettered yesterday with glorious weather for the concluding function of a brilliant and most happy year in office—the garden party given by Mrs. McDonald and himself to the Shanghai Scottish S.V.C., in continuation of a custom established several years ago and carried on by successive Presidents. He was fortunate, too, in having Mr. B.D.F. Beith, the talpan of the "Muckle Hoose," as his Vice-President and friend, for though Mr. McDonald, "Paul," and the other members of his household can rejoice in the possession of a spacious and pretty "lovely spot," its acreage would have been entirely insufficient to accommodate the vast army of guests who yesterday went to pay their adieux to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald in their official capacity. Mr. Beith came to the rescue with the loan of the extensive grounds of Ewo Lodge, which with their handsome maples and a myriad of other trees, shrubs, and flower beds, made a beautiful background for a gay and animated scene.

The Shanghai Scottish, who had been in camp at the Rifle Range during the week-end, made a brave show as they marched in under Capt. T. W. R. Wilson, 80 per cent of their full strength, and led by their pipe band and the drums of the 2nd Worcestershire Regiment. Their new white belts and spats made a great difference in their appearance, providing an effective relief to the drab khaki which is the uniform of the Corps.

NATIVE AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

Canton, Oct. 26.

In view of the dull market for native agricultural products, the Provincial government has decided to adopt a policy of unified control of production and consumption of native agricultural products in this province.

It is learned that a committee will be formed to look after the controlled business. The Reconstruction Department has been ordered to draft definite schemes of unified control and formulate regulations governing the formation of the committee.

NEW YORK STOCK AND COMMODITY QUOTATIONS

AMERICAN ORIENTAL FINANCE CORPORATION AND S. E. LEVY & CO.

New York, Oct. 25. The American Oriental Finance Corporation's report through their New York agents, Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co., states:—

Stocks.—The disappointing action of the market may quite possibly increase trading bearishness. Wheat.—With no follow up to the early buying, the market slumped easily with buying interest small. Weather reports were ignored.

Cotton.—The disappointing action of the market early in the day induced scattered selling and some isolated hedging was in evidence. The Trade was the principal buyer at limits. The "spot" situation remained unchanged.

Rubber.—A strong opening was the main factor, but prices subsequently declined here on hedging by dealers and lower Sterling exchange. There was some liquidation in the afternoon.

New York, Oct. 25. Messrs. S. E. Levy & Company's report, through their New York agents, Messrs. White, Weld & Co., states:—
